

OCTOBER elections have dwindled in number of late years, and the present month will furnish but two State contests, those of Ohio and Iowa. Both occur on the 9th; that is, a week from tomorrow. Iowa will choose its Governor and other State officers, part of its Senate, and all its House of Representatives. Ohio will choose its Governor and other State officers, and both branches of its Legislature, and in addition it will vote upon three proposed amendments of the State Constitution, one of them effecting changes in the judicial system, and the other two presenting a choice between the prohibition of the sale of intoxicating liquors and its regulation. Both canvasses have been spirited, and the one in Ohio has been enlivened by a series of incidents having little necessary connection with the main issue between the two parties.

The Richmond State thinks we are paying the national debt too fast. It says: "Ninety millions of the principal of the public debt will be paid this year. A call of the three percents has been made, and if this thing goes on and a stop is not put to the useless and unnecessary burden on the present generation of wiping out the whole debt, we shall soon have no debt 'to bank on,' and our finances will run riot in the old 'wild cat' way, when every cross-road town had its bank and issued its worthless shillings. Therefore reduce the revenues at once by repealing the internal revenue enormity, if by no other means."

When a person wants to shuffle off this mortal coil as bad as Miss Emily Griffin at Philadelphia, she should by all means be allowed to do so. First she took laudanum which a physician pumped out of her before it got in its work; as soon as she was able to walk she jumped into the river, from whence she was dragged in the niche of time and when taken to the station-house nearly succeeded in hanging herself. Crossed in love has put her so at outs with the world.

The newspaper war in New York grows fiercer with the days. James Gordon Bennett, proprietor of the Herald, has cabled from Paris to his business manager: "Try special service to sustain rates; if that fails, circulate paper free." He can afford the latter, as it is said that the advertisements of his paper pay the expenses of running it and leave a net balance of $2,000 daily.

It is reported that large numbers of Kentucky negroes are being taken by the republicans to Ohio to vote in the election Tuesday, and the probability is that many of them will wind up in the penitentiary. The democrats have raised a fund of $15,000 to prosecute to the bitter end every illegal voter who presents himself.

BEO. NEWTON, of the Richmond Herald, does a good thing in exposing those rascals who succeed in getting their advertisements in certain newspapers and never pay for them, but we think the better thing would be never to credit patent medicine and other quacks. This paper has that invariable rule.

ACCORDING to the statements of various parties Cecil must have promised $1,000 clerkships to some 15 or 20 men, all of whom are now crying around for a fulfillment. We would hardly have suspected the innocent mountaineer of so much chicanery.

JUDGE HOADLEY has recovered from his illness and is now on the war path in Ohio. Foraker has made 100 speeches during the canvass which on the republican side has been a most windy one. Next Tuesday decides the contest.

THAT beautiful city of the dead, Spring Grove Cemetery, Cincinnati, must be a money-making institution. It took in $85,063.54 during the last fiscal year just closed and has $145,045 of available assets.

Postal cards will not be made any longer after the 30th inst. It is proper to state, however, that they will continue to be the same length as at present. [Nicholasville Journal.]

The French are a practical people and of course can not tolerate any of the new fangled foolishness in religion. Therefore it has been ordered that the Salvation army must go.

CHRISTINE NILSON, the sweetest of singers and purest of women, has arrived at New York, preparatory to a tour of this country in her irresistible melody-making.

THE L. & N. OWNS 1,616 miles of railroad and operates 3,791 miles more. It is one of the largest corporations in the country.

The Democrat of Carrollton, Mo., says: "On Thursday 'Jim' Lawton invited fifty neighbors to see him beat his own time of two years ago, when his wife baked bread in eight and a quarter minutes after the wheat was standing in the field. At 6 minutes and 10 seconds after 4 the Backeye reaper stood at the corner of the growing wheat. Men were stationed every few feet along the line of grain ready to seize an armful as it fell from the reaper, and to run with it to the thrasher close by. The mill was just sixteen rods distant. At the drop of the hat the mules sprang to work, and in a minute and a half about a peck of threshed wheat was in the sack and on a horse that began a race for the mill. A minute and seventeen seconds later the flour was delivered to Mrs. Lawton, and in 3 minutes, 65 seconds from the starting of the reaper the first griddlecake was eaten. In 4 minutes, 30 seconds from the starting of the reaper a pan of biscuits was passed out to the spectators."

While Gov. Knott has his hand in, it would be well to examine into the management of the Anchorage Lunatic Asylum and try the virtue of a new appointee on that alleged very badly managed institution. One or two of the inmates has been foully murdered by brutal attendants and other discreditable scandals have blackened the record of the last several years, which owing to the political influence of the Superintendent, were overlooked by the ex-Governor whose whole attention was directed towards the convicts to the exclusion of the more unfortunate and more-to-be-pitied charges on the State. Gov. Knott can distinguish his administration by declaring that Dr. Gale must go.

The report comes via republican sources that Gen. Hancock chagrined and disappointed over his defeat was like Horace Greeley, slowly dying at his headquarters on Governor's Island. The true story is that the General sprained his knee and had to lay up a few days for repairs.

THE publication of obscene literature pays handsomely in this country. Ten years ago, Richard K. Fox, owner of the Police Gazette counted his worldly possessions at $10; now he enjoys an annual income of over $200,000. This is a sad commentary on the tastes of our people.

The smallest steam engine ever made is among the exhibits in the Southern Exposition. It stands on a gold dollar and can be covered with a thimble, and three drops of water furnishes the steam necessary to run it. It is valued at $25,000 and is not for sale.

THE nickel that the government makes its five-cent pieces of is bought at $1.91 per pound. Twenty thousand pounds have just been bought at that and it is the lowest price ever paid.

The first of the many tokens received by "Stonewall" Jackson's widow and her daughter while they were in Boston was a superb basket of roses, "with the compliments of a few members of the Grand Army of the Republic."

The quizzical Whitehall Times furnishes this recipe for the consequential idiots we all know: "When you think the world can not get along without you, pull a hair from your head and see if it makes you bald-headed."

Hunters in Panther Creek Swamp, in Mississippi, shot a deer that had a human skull impaled on one of the prongs of its right horn. The prong had entered the eye, and grown up around the skull bone.

SHE couldn't stay away. Mrs. Langtry has sailed for this country to pick up some more soft snaps like Gebhardt.

JAY GOULD will now begin to gobble up the L. & N. He was elected Wednesday as one of its directors.

NOTES OF CURRENT EVENTS.

In Quebec Wednesday snow was falling fast.

Lord Coleridge, England's Chief Justice, is in Louisville.

Gov. Butler says he is going to be re-elected by fully 40,000 majority.

A heavy storm of rain and snow prevailed on Tuesday over northern New England.

Gov. Knott's mother and brother have visited Gov. Knott and pleaded for a reprieve until after Neal's trial.

On the docket of the Palaski Circuit Court there are five murder cases and over two hundred civil suits.

Canterbury & Haskell, boot and shoe manufacturers, Boston, have suspended. Liabilities about $190,000.

It is reported that the Confederate Soldiers' Home, at Georgetown, Ky, has suspended for want of money to sustain it.

There was a School Children's Day at the Louisville Exposition this week, when over 4,000 attended for a silver dime apiece.

John W. Rupe, a farmer, an inmate in the Lunatic Asylum at Anchorage, Ky, hung himself with a towel, Monday morning.

Millions of grasshoppers were brought in by the storm Sunday. They were of the regular Kansas kind. [Frankfort Yeoman.]

Gen. Roger A. Pryor sailed from New York Wednesday, for Liverpool, where he will defend O'Donnell, the slayer of Infanter Carey.

A bullet crushed through a church window in Vicksburg and struck Hiram Williams, one of the worshippers. It was fired by Edward Lewis, with whom Williams had a political misunderstanding.

Superintendent Pickett's demand upon Auditor Hewitt for a share of the taxes paid by corporations, none of which have ever been allowed the school fund, will swell that fund about $60,000 a year.

There were nearly 13,000 visitors at the Cincinnati Exposition on Wednesday. The expenses are assured, and the show will close Saturday with an addition to the handsome surplus coming from last year.

Col. Wellie Chapman, of this city, a brother-in-law of Gov. Knott, has been appointed chief clerk of Adjutant General Castleman's office, and will move to Frankfort early in November and take charge. [C. J.]

The L. & N. road held its annual meeting of the stockholders at Louisville Wednesday. The report of President Baldwin, shows the net earnings of the property, $13,234,916; expenses, $8,099,595; net earnings, $5,135,320. The following officers were elected: President—C. C. Baldwin, New York; Vice President—M. H. Smith, Louisville; Second Vice President, A. Washington, Nashville, Tenn. Third Vice President, F. D. Corley, Louisville. Assistant to the President and Assistant Secretary, A. M. Quarrier, Louisville.

The Pittsburgh Exposition Buildings were entirely destroyed by fire early Wednesday morning. The fire first appeared in the boiler room attached to Machinery Hall. In less than ten minutes the flames had spread over all the buildings and were beyond control. Nothing at all was saved. The fire department had all it could do to keep the fire from spreading to adjacent property. The total loss will amount to about $1,000,000. The buildings were valued at $150,000, and were insured for $50,000. They were erected in 1875. The exhibitors lost something over $800,000. A large number of valued relics, which can never be replaced, were destroyed. Twenty-seven thousand people visited the Exposition on Tuesday. Had the fire occurred in the evening, when nearly all the buildings were crowded, the loss of life would have been appalling.

GEO. O. BARNES IN ENGLAND

"PRAISE THE LORD"
LAUREL LODGE, MUSWELL HILL, N.
LONDON, Sept. 19, '93.

Dear Interior:

A few words more about Highgate, as it drifts into the "things that were." "All devouring London" has charged up one slope of the pretty hill, the one particularly described in my last—marrying its beauty greatly; but with the exception of this Holloway road, the rural seclusion of Highgate is its most charming feature. The romantic winding roads and lanes, winding away in every direction, lead to dainty villas and stately mansions, through embowered groves, and alongside hawthorn and holly hedges that are a perpetual joy to the strolling pedestrian. And here one finds quiet English family life in its most attractive form. In addition to those already known if I could only, without breach of courtesy, introduce you to the circle at "Beechwood," where our good friend Mr. Wm. Piper and his dear family have shown us oft repeated kindness; or that at "Bishopwood" where Mr. Wm. Green and his, have bidden us equal welcome, once and again; or the "Brooklands" household of Mr. Wm. Ellis, later known, but quickly endeared to us all—I am quite sure my readers would think "the lines had fallen to us in pleasant places." And they have. But I can not introduce all in a row, like a master of ceremonies, even if a proper delicacy allowed this wholesale luging of genteel folk into a newspaper. I must therefore be content with presenting them as they touch our lives in some marked way, that may be an apology for the mention.

I can therefore, only say that "Beechwood" has the grandest of ancient beeches half a dozen or more, upon the lovely 4 acres that surround the Piper mansion, with a view across the Earl of Mansfield's forest, and to Hampstead in the background, with church spire towering beautifully against the sky, which for exquisite beauty would be hard to match even in this incomparable England. And you walk out to admire this over an Englishman's special pride—a sloping lawn of grass, emerald and velvet combined, that springs under foot, elastic and responsive to the tread, in a way exclusively English. Mr. Green has also an exquisite lawn, with the rarest arrangement of flower beds in massed patterns that I have ever seen in private grounds, and such wonderful flower conservatories and greenhouses, that it is a treat to walk through them. Grapes and peaches are almost exclusively grown under glass here, and of the former, by careful forcing and retarding, a skillful gardener can keep up a supply of the various kinds nearly, if not quite the year round, as I am told. Pears, apples and plums grow nicely in the open air, and fruit generally. "Brooklands" has the title cum dulce, and a merry tennis lawn, where a jolly game is added, though necessarily at the expense of faultless beauty. One can't have one's pie and eat it too. But I like tennis. It is such a capital game for young folks. So merry and innocent and healthful. It is played with rubber balls and bats with catgut woven across, very elastic, and the balls are beaten back and forth across a net work barrier between the players—the game being to send the ball back, so as to clear the network, three feet high, and yet land it within certain limits on the farther side. One can acquire great skill at it. It is "no end" better than croquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Piper kindly took me over the Earl of Mansfield's "Caen Wood" estate one day last week. This Caen Wood once sheltered the accomplices of Guy Fawkes, and a fine sum of knoll, still called "Traitors Hill" is authenticated as the place from which they watched to see Parliament House and without it Parliament and "King Jamie," mayhap, blown into the air. On the failure of the plot they hid in Caen Wood from pursuit. The forest is still a dense one of several hundred acres. The mansion is very plain, but the terrace and grounds are lovely. One corner of the front exposure is devoted to rhododendrons as a specialty—perhaps the finest collection in mass in Europe. Four grand Cedars of Lebanon planted by the Chief Justice himself are worth seeing. The place comprises between 200 and 300 acres, and when we remember that it is only 4 miles from Charing Cross, the prodigious value of the estate may be estimated. Five millions of dollars perhaps. The present Earl is quite old, and it is generally believed that Lord Stomont his eldest son, who succeeds to the title and estates will hardly resist the temptation to sell out to house builders. In ten years a solid town will likely stand where last week I walked through quiet forest glades with no sounds but the twittering of birds and our own voices and footsteps. London and its roar were as completely shut out as if we had been in the Rocky Mountains.

My readers know how the old first Earl, one of an impecunious family of 14 young Scotch Murrays, rode his pony in two months from the banks of the Tay to "London town," with a little sack of scant clothing and provisions swung round his neck; and how this William Murray studied law, and still battling with poverty, won his way by sheer ability and pluck to the front rank, and became one of England's most famous "Lord Chief Justices," as well as Earl of Mansfield. He bought the noble estate of the heirs of Lord Bate, improved it and died on it. We had a run through the vacated apartment of the mansion, by the kindness of our chaperone, the head gardener. Carpets rolled up and piled in the great dining room, and everything, as if a removal was contemplated, but many fine pictures on the walls. One was shown—valued at 5,000 guineas ($25,000), Wilkes' original of the famous "Village Politicians." It is about 2½ ft. in size, and, of course, very fine—only I would rather have the $25,000, I think.

The old Earl narrowly escaped with life in the time of the Lord Gordon "No popery" riots, familiar to the readers of Barnaby Rudge, if not of dry history. His town house and invaluable law library and manuscript records of his times, reserved for posthumous production, all perished in the flames, but as the rioters were on their way to destroy Caen Wood House the inn keeper of the "Three Spaniards" at the entrance of Hampstead Heath, had the presence of mind to throw open his cellars to the thirsty crew, and detained them, in casual, until he had dispatched a messenger to the city; and by the time the cellars were drained of ale and spirits, a mounted troop confronted them at the Earl's mansion and frightened them away. The "Three Spaniards" is still a popular resort, though Dick Turpin and his like no longer roam the famous Heath, "dealers in watches, jewelry and coins" as they called themselves euphoniously, and after a successful raid, would call at the "Spaniards" to have a grand carnival in honor of it.

Patterson, the founder of the Bank of England, whose prolific brain produced many another scheme, successful or failing, dug great ponds to catch the issue of the various springs in Caen Wood, and these are still in existence, tho' no longer in use for original purpose of supplying the neighboring parts of the great city with drinking water. Id times of scarcity the water is, however, still utilized for cleansing purposes. It would not interest your readers to speak of the "Chomely school," founded by Sir Roger of that name, ages ago in the crypt of whose Chapel Coleridge's remains lie interred; nor of "Dick" Whittington's Alm. House at the foot of the Hill near Holloway road; nor of "St. Joseph's Retreat" where a monastery of Jesuits is established; nor of many things of interest to the antiquary and historian that I may not take time to mention. I have already written of the Whittington Stone on the Holloway Hill side where the Knight that was to be, as well as thrice Lord Mayor of London, sat and listened to Bow Bells calling him back to London. Plain "Dick" still in the loving memory of the people, yet a grand Sir Richard he also was who could do things worthy of the noblest of partisans. It is related how once when he entertained the warlike Henry V, with his court at his city mansion, while Lord Mayor, he lighted a fire in the drawing room, of rare and costly woods and spices, instead of ordinary fuel, and then, at the proper moment, made a little bonfire on top, consisting of sundry notes of indebtedness that bore the King's signature, made when he had been compelled to borrow various sums from the city guilds—the worshipful mercers, the iron mongers, the brewers, &c.—and carry on his wars. These amounted in the aggregate to £60,000—a prodigious sum in those days—and were cancelled in the flames by the generous Sir Richard, who paid every penny out of his own pocket. No wonder it is written—"the King and his nobles were annoyed therewith, very greatly."

And so adieu to dear Highgate—which must ever be a central spot in memory to us. Marie and I have been to the city several times lately to begin a new and delightful service among the "working women," already alluded to in a previous letter, I think. We are needed at an hour that is a perfectly leisure one to us any day—between 12½ and 2 P. M. The women and girls take their dinner and then come up to the hall, if they like to hear a little gospel in address and song. All is perfectly voluntary. The service is unique, though, and would paralyze any one not leaning hard on the LORD. The girls come up in berets or batches of half a dozen or more with some 5 minutes, some 10, some more to spare. When "time is up" they have to go. Employers will not wait on even the gospel. The thing is to keep up a succession of clear, compact, gospel addresses of 5 minutes, constantly changing and yet while complete in themselves for 5 minute lectures, only part of a chain that will interest many who have half an hour to spare. Then all want to hear a bit of the gospel. So you see how difficult to adjust everything—nay, how impossible except to the dear LORD. We go to 6 Jewin St. at 12:45 and remain till 1:25, then ascend round to 186 Aldersgate St. to begin at 1:30 and hold on till 2 P. M. We are delighted with this blessed service and struck with the superior character of our hearers. Such nice, intelligent faces. Most are shop girls and well dressed, and many evidently well-bred and educated. Of one's heart aches to witness this struggle for bare life, on starvation wages, among the working women of London. That or ruin! What an alternative! Dear LORD Jesus "Come quickly" and put a stop to all this misery. How infinite must be the patience of HIM who knows all this as we can not, and yet has to delay His advent for wise and good reasons, unknown to us. There are 20,000 young women in London in this condition of poverty. May the good LORD bless the dear, unselfish souls who are trying to help. To see a young aristocrat like Miss Seaton Kerr in the lunch-room at Jewin street handling dinner tickets by the hour, like a bar-maid, or a shop girl, at an eating-house, while she gives a constant word of encouragement to the weary workers passing in and out, is a sight to make angels glad. And she is just one of a noble band of women who will one day wear crowns as sure as there is a distribution of rewards for faithful service. The Misses Green, of Highgate—Annie and Gertrude—are a pair of these angels of mercy who go cheerfully among these rough "navvies" daily and talk and sing to them during their dinner hour. At our last service at Highgate, Drill Hall, I could but notice how these dear girls "pinned" each her rough customer and stuck to them till the last word of exhortation and the last echo of entreating song had died away. It is beautiful to behold. And these young ladies are as highly educated as money lavishly spent can bestow on an heir of wealth and position. I am glad that

"Thy crowning day is coming.
It is coming by and by."
What a joy to see unselfish love rewarded!
"May I be there to see."
Of Laurel Lodge in my next, if the LORD will. Ever in Jesus,
GEO. O. BARNES.

MADISON COUNTY.—B. F. Clay, agent for the Bible College at Lexington, has raised $1,160 in this county, of the $50,000 endowment fund wanted.—Mr. T. J. Scott has been appointed by Judge Morton Master Commissioner of the Madison Circuit Court. An excellent appointment.—Monday was County Court and considerable stock was on the market. Samuel Deatherage, auctioneer, reports the sale of 13 yearling cattle at $31.50, 9 fat steers at $4.77 per 100 pounds and mule colts at $40 to $100.—A Post-office has been established at Red House, this county, and named Sturges, with Jonathan F. Sturges as Postmaster.—Eight men, two white and six black, were sent to the penitentiary during the Court just closed. The same are from five to ten years.—A protracted meeting is in progress at the Christian church, conducted by Elder J. S. Sweeney, of Paris. Mr. Joe S. Bronston, late editor of the Herald, made the confession on Sunday morning and Johnnie Brooks at night, and others have joined.—Capt. W. H. Todd sold last week 1,200 barrels of corn at $2.25 per barrel in the field.—[Herald.]

Buckley's Arnica Salve.
The greatest medical wonder of the world. Warranted to speedily cure Burns, Bruises, Cuts, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Cankers, Piles, Chilblains, Corns, Tetters, Chapped Hands and all skin eruptions, guaranteed to cure in every instance, or money refunded. A positive cure for Piles. 25c per box. For sale by Penny & McAlister.

Excited Thousands
All over the land are going into ecstasy over Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their craving for recovery by the timely use of this great life-saving remedy causes them to go nearly wild in its praise. It is guaranteed to positively cure severe Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Hay Fever, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Loss of Voice, or any affection of the Throat and Lungs. Trial Bottle free at Penny & McAlister's Drug Store. Large size, $1.

LANCASTER ADVERTISEMENTS.
B. F. WALTER,
SURGEON DENTIST,
LANCASTER, KY.
Office over Citizens National Bank. Office hours from 9 to 12 A. M. and from 1 to 5 P. M.

SAM M. BURDETT,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
LANCASTER, KY.
Will practice in Garrard and adjoining counties and in the Court of Appeals. [18-175]

H. C. KAUFFMAN,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
LANCASTER, KY.
Master Commissioner Garrard Circuit Court. Will practice in all the Courts of Garrard and adjoining counties and in the Court of Appeals.

ENTERPRISE
Grocery.

GEO. D. BURDETT
& CO.,
Lancaster, Kentucky,

LANCASTER, KENTUCKY,

—HAVE—
Just Received Another Car Load of

Furniture,
—Consisting of—
Parlor and Chamber Sets,

Beds & Lounges, Bed Springs and Mattresses,
Sofas and Chairs and Everything Belonging to a First-Class Furniture Store.

Prices as Low as Anybody's.

GROCERIES!

PROVISIONS,

Hardware, Queensware, Glassware, Tinware, &c.,

AT LOWEST PRICES

—AT—

T. R. WALTON'S.

My stock of the above goods is now very comprehensive and my prices for them EXCEEDINGLY Low. You are standing in your own light if you do not buy of me. I mean every word of this, as you will see by calling at the Postoffice store. Country Produce wanted.

JOS. SEVERANCE,
Late of Chenault, Severance & Co., Stanford, Ky., with

J. M. ROBINSON & CO.,
Importers and Jobbers of Dry Goods, Notions, &c.,
537, 539, 541 Main Street, Cor. Sixth,
LOUISVILLE, - - - KY.

Information Wanted.

A suitable reward will be paid for information leading to the detection of Mrs. Corinne Hall, (widow), and recovery of our losses, which she did not account for when our agent in Stanford three years ago.

J. B. HULING & CO.,
Chicago, Ill.
159-160

DR. T. E. SMITH,
Homeopathic Physician,
DANVILLE, - - KENTUCKY.

Residence, Clements House; office opp. Central Nat. Bank. Special attention to diseases of women and children for the past eighteen years. 159-160

Fire, Lightning & Tornado
INSURANCE!
Seven First-Class Companies.
LOWEST RATES!
152-161 J. M. PHILIPS, Agt., Stanford.

—DANVILLE—
PLANING MILL
COMPANY.

—Manufacturers of—
Doors, Sash, Blinds, Window and Door Frames, Mouldings, Scroll Saw Work, Turning Lathe Work, Flooring, Ceiling, Weatherboarding, Dressed Lumber, —And other—
Building Material
—Also Dealers In—
DANVILLE PLANING MILL CO.
173-183 Danville, Ky.

FRANCIS
HOTEL.

FORMERLY ST. ASAPH,
STANFORD, - - KY.

—Having had this Hotel—
Refurnished and Relit
I intend to keep it in a Strictly First-Class Manner. And leave nothing undone that will add to the COMFORT OF MY GUESTS.

Commercial Travelers
SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS
To patronize me, as I have every convenience, such as NICE SAMPLE ROOMS, &c., for their use.

Baggage Transferred to and from the Depot free of charge. Give me a call.
W. S. FRANCIS.

PAYSON'S
DELICIOUS
INK

$60 5-TON
JONES
JONES & CO.,
1000-1002 Broadway, New York City.

ESTILL SPRINGS!
Have taken charge of this famous watering place for the coming season. I am now

Prepared to Receive Guests.
I have a corps of trained servants and will be able to furnish

Satisfactory Accommodations
To all persons in pursuit of health or pleasure. The medicinal qualities of these waters are too well known to the people of Central Kentucky to need a description of the life-giving properties. The rates of board will be reasonable. For further information, apply to me at Irvine, Ky.
S. M. FRANKCOCK.

MYERS HOTEL,
STANFORD, KY.

E. H. BURNSIDE, - Prop'r

This Old and Well-Known Hotel Still Maintains its High Reputation.

—AND—
Its Proprietor is Determined that it shall be Second to no Country Hotel in the State in its Fare, Appointments, or Attention to Comfort of their Guests.

Respect will be conveyed to and from the depot free of charge. Special accommodations to Commercial Travelers. The Bar will be always supplied with the choicest brands of Liquors and Cigars.

FRANCIS
HOTEL.

FORMERLY ST. ASAPH,
STANFORD, - - KY.

—Having had this Hotel—
Refurnished and Relit
I intend to keep it in a Strictly First-Class Manner. And leave nothing undone that will add to the COMFORT OF MY GUESTS.

Commercial Travelers
SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS
To patronize me, as I have every convenience, such as NICE SAMPLE ROOMS, &c., for their use.

Baggage Transferred to and from the Depot free of charge. Give me a call.
W. S. FRANCIS.

Semi-Weekly Interior Journal

STANFORD, KY.

Friday Morning, October 5, 1893

LOCAL TIME CARD.
Mail train going North 10:00 P. M.
Express train " " 11:00 P. M.
Express train " " 1:00 A. M.
Express train " " 3:00 A. M.

LOCAL NOTICES.

BUY PAINTS OF PENNY & McALLISTER.
SCHOOL BOOKS at McRoberts and Stagg's.
AMMUNITION of all kinds at McRoberts & Stagg's.
NICE stock of birthday cards at Penny & McAllister's.
COLE'S Double Breech-loading at McRoberts & Stagg's.
STANDARD ready mixed paints at McRoberts & Stagg's.
JOS. HAAS Hog Cholera Cure. Penny & McAllister sole agents.
We can sell you a gun anywhere from $4 to $75. McRoberts & Stagg.
BRAND new stock of every thing in the jewelry line at Penny & McAllister's.
WATCHES, Clocks and Jewelry repaired and warranted by Penny & McAllister.
FOR coughs, colds, etc., use Compound Syrup White Pine. Put up in 25c and 50c bottles. Trial size 10c. McRoberts & Stagg.

PERSONAL.

—M. PETERSON, Esq., is in London.
—MR. JOHN T. GANO and sister, Miss Kate, are visiting Col. W. G. Welch.
—MISS LUCY SIMPSON left Tuesday to visit the Great Southern Exposition.
—MISS HELEN REID, a little Hustonville beauty, is visiting relatives here.
—MR. GEO. D. WEAREN, wife and children are visiting the Louisville Exposition.
—MR. AND MRS. T. T. DAVIES, Mrs. Kate Dudder and Miss Ira Smiley have gone to Louisville.
—MR. JOHN M. ELMORE is down in Louisville attending the bedside of his son, who is reported better.
—MR. L. S. McLELLAN joined a party of Danville friends yesterday and went to the Great Southern Exposition.
—MR. AND MRS. MIKE ELKIN went to Louisville Wednesday, to see John Robinson, who is down with the fever.
—MR. M. L. LIPSCOMB, who has been visiting at his father's, James Robinson, returned to Hopkinsville, Wednesday.
—ALL of the justices, except Squire M. S. Peyton attended the Court of Claims. He has been sick for a long time and is now much worse.
—MR. SID MYERS, of this place, and Tom Wherritt, of Lancaster, have gone on a big fishing excursion and will take in Rockcastle and Cumberland Rivers.
—J. C. HAYS and Dr. Hugh Reid went to Cincinnati yesterday to have the former's ear operated on, he having nearly lost his hearing in the last few days.
—REV. R. B. MANORNEY, of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, was here this week, but it would not be doing the fair thing to state the attraction.
—MR. WILLIAM T. McGEHEE, the gentleman from Mississippi, who had his leg broken in a runaway accident about a month ago, had so far recovered as to return to his home on Wednesday, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Dandridge.
—COL. G. H. ROCHSTER, of Stanford, Kentucky, has been spending a few days in Superior, and made this office a pleasant call Wednesday. This is his first visit to this city, and expectations were more than realized in regard to it.—(Superior (Wis.) Inter-Ocean.)
—CHAPERONED by Mrs. S. C. Trueheart, the following school girls and others went to Louisville on the early Wednesday morning's train to visit the Exposition: Misses Florence Trueheart, Mary Gully, Pattie McGeehee, Lillie Hill, Lillie Shelton, Lizzie Watson, Berta Shreve, Dorothea Burton, Emma Garrard, Fannie Reid, Ella Givens and others.
LOCAL MATTERS.
TIMOTHY SEED at T. R. Walton's.
FRESH OYSTERS at S. S. Myers' served at all hours.
HEATING STOVES at bottom prices at W. H. Higgins.
AN ELEGANT stock of Clothing at Edmiston & Owsley's.
You should see that $50 coat at Bruce Warren & Co's.
Bright & Curran.
A new line of Zeigler Bros. Shoes just received at S. H. Shanks.
Buy the Gale Chilled Plow—the best and cheapest—of T. R. Walton.
A LARGE stock of Blankets and Comforts just received by Edmiston & Owsley.
BRUCE, WARREN & Co. have a new lot of those $2.50 custom call shoes for the ladies.
OVER fifty people took the train here Wednesday morning for the Louisville Exposition.
MR. N. D. WELMOT has been commissioned P. M. at Gum Sulphur and P. H. Dunn at Dubuville, Ky.
FOUND.—A Sash, which the owner can get by proving property and paying for this notice. Call at this office.
THAT small profits and quick sales tell is demonstrated by the fact that Bright & Curran are selling double the goods ever sold in Stanford before.
DIVORCE.—Mrs. Susan Cain has brought suit against her husband, Thomas Cain, for divorce, on the grounds that he has been convicted of a felony and is now serving a term in the State's prison. H. T. Harris represents the lady.
BROUGHT BACK.—John Pierce, who shot G. W. BALL in the head sometime since almost without provocation and who occupied from the guards as he was being brought to jail in default of $500 bail, was captured in Williamsburg this week by James McCarly and brought back to the county and lodged in jail. Mr. Ball and friends had offered $50 reward for him.

BEST corn-sheller made, at W. H. Higgins.
Faint line French candies at Bright & Curran's.
A NICE assortment of fresh candies at S. S. Myers'.
A full line of Fall Goods now opening at S. H. Shanks'.
New timothy seed at bottom figures at Bright & Curran's.
New lot of Canned Goods, cheaper than ever, at T. R. Walton's.
AGAIN, more Trunks and Valises at Bruce, Warren & Co's.
THE largest stock of Winter Boots in town at Edmiston & Owsley's.
But lot of Clothing, Overcoats, etc., just from the cities, can be seen at S. H. Shanks'.
C. D. AYRES has resigned as Depot Agt at the Junction and a Mr. Woodson is to take his place.
New and comprehensive lines of Tinware, Glassware, Stoneware, Harness and general Groceries at T. R. Walton's.
We will open to-day the largest and finest line of Cloaks, Dolmans and Circulars ever shown in this market. Edmiston & Owsley.
MESSRS. J. B. McWHORTER & Co. advertise in this issue 500 acres of fine land for sale, besides a large lot of stock, etc. Sale on the 25th.
To-morrow the Circus and the fair will be on hand. Remember the misfortune of Mr. Faulkner Holmes and do not be against another man's trick.
The lumber for a two-story passenger depot to be built at Stanford Junction is beginning to arrive. It is for the L. & N. and we learn that the K. C. will also put up one.
The most noticeable improvement this week is the renovation Mr. P. P. Munnelly is giving his old brick establishment. It now looks really juvenile, considering it is one of the oldest buildings in town.
HEAVY DRY GOODS, Blankets, comforters, tickling, unbleached muslin, sheeting, towels, yarns and anything in this line we are able to give you bottom prices on. Our stock is large and new. You will have no trouble in making a selection. J. W. Hayden.
We learn that the K. C. will change its schedule, Sunday, so that its Cincinnati train will arrive at Stanford Junction at 11 A. M. and return at 2:30 P. M. This train will not be a mixed one but will run on time and carry the mail, which will be put on through to Cincinnati and not to Richmond as now.
Don't Fool away your time running from store to store, but come direct to headquarters where you are sure to find good goods, low prices, courteous attention, salesmen who will take the greatest pleasure in showing you through our stock and quoting you what will prove to be bottom figures on everything. J. W. Hayden.
SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.—A large proportion of the readers of the INTERIOR JOURNAL are farmers, many of whom desire a great deal more of farming literature than we are able to give in our limited space. To accommodate all such we have made arrangements with the publishers of the American Farmer to give it as a premium for one year to every subscriber of the INTERIOR JOURNAL who pays his subscription in advance. The American Farmer is a large, 16-page paper, published at Fort Wayne, Ind., the subscription price of which is $1 per year. Every farmer should avail himself of this magnificent offer, which is good for one month.
COURT OF CLAIMS.—There were three bidders for Poor-House keeper: W. G. Collier proposed to board the paupers at $62.50 per year for all over 12 years and $32.50 for all under; Ransom Carson bid $65 and $35 and Cyrus Clench $68 and $35. Collier's bid was accepted and he was elected keeper. Dr. E. T. Stephenson was chosen Poor-House physician over Dr. Pettus, his bid being $175 and Dr. P.'s $200, exclusive of midwifery and surgery. Dr. G. W. Brown was elected jail physician over Dr. Reid by 5 to 4 and Mr. D. B. Edmiston was unanimously re-elected Treasurer. Bond, No. 10, for $1,000 having been paid off it was destroyed in the presence of the Court. Squire George P. Bright moved that hereafter no claim for teams be allowed unless they are used on the regular days for working the roads, except in case of obstructions. It was carried and ordered to be printed in the INTERIOR JOURNAL. Col. Vanover presented a petition asking the Court to subscribe $800 per mile to aid in building the proposed Stanford, Dix River and Garrard Turnpike, but consideration of the matter was postponed until January. Damages for building a road through his farm amounting to $400 were ordered paid to G. W. Carter. A number of paupers outside of the poor-house were allowed a stated sum per month as long as the Judge believes it necessary. The claims will amount to several hundred dollars more than last year, but as they have not been added up we can not give the exact figures. After three day's session the Court adjourned yesterday forenoon.
DEATHS.
—Stephen Stephenson, son of Mr. D. L. Stephenson, aged about 23 years, died Wednesday of typhoid fever.
—Mrs. Lizzie Beasley, after a long illness of consumption, died at her home in Louisville, Wednesday night, aged 40 years. She was formerly a resident of this place, having moved from Garrard county, whither her remains were brought yesterday for interment. A member of the Christian Church from an early age, she fought the good fight of faith and in triumph has gone to claim the crown of life promised the finally faithful. She leaves five children to mourn a mother's love, besides many relatives and friends, who will grieve to know that she is no more. The remains will be taken from here to day and at 10:30 o'clock, after a short sermon by Eld. Lowber, will be consigned to their mother earth.

MARRIAGES.
—Mr. Ephraim Manuel and Miss Margaret Anderson were married yesterday at Mrs. Polly Wardlow's, the bride's mother.
—Mr. J. H. Stodghill, of Danville, and Miss Sallie Figg, of Lebanon, will be married at the Baptist church on the 10th inst. [Standard].
—Mr. P. W. Green obtained license here and was married in Danville yesterday to Miss Ruth Wright, of this county. He is 20 and she 18.
RELIGIOUS.
—Rev. I. S. McElroy will preach at Coffey's School-House Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.
—A Scott county pater familias recently bought a $15 Bible each for his family of thirteen.
—Calvary Church, Clifton, (Cincinnati) having tried the congregation plan of singing, has gone back to the quartet choir.
—Six branches of the Baptist Church favoring open communion, but differing on minor points, are holding a convention at Minneapolis, Minn.
—Eld. Stephen Collier and J. Q. Montgomery, have just closed a meeting at Mt. Olive, in this county with the glorious result of 69 added to the church.
—A new history of Methodism in America states that the first Sunday school in America was founded in 1786 by Bishop Asbury in Hanover county, Va.
—Rev. Moses Aaron is holding a protracted meeting in Nelson county. He is seventy-eight years old and weighs 308 lbs., and preaches in a sitting position.
—The brick work on the new Baptist church will be completed to-day and Mr. Nevius tells us that the calculation is being made that the church will be ready for worship the first Sunday in December.
—Squire E. B. Caldwell, clerk of the Cumberland River Association, reports a membership of 1,620 in its 17 churches. During the year 110 members were received by baptism and 23 by letter.
—The seventy-fourth annual meeting of the American Board of Foreign Missions is in progress at Detroit, with 2,000 attendees. The receipts for the year were $500,996 and the expenditures in carrying on direct mission work were $557,245.
—The records of the ten lost tribes of Israel are now about to be searched for in the hills of Tara, Ireland, a company having been organized in England to search there for the deeds given to the prophet Jeremiah when he bought Palestine. The record is delayed by the arrest of the manager of the Tara Trust Company for debt.
LAND, STOCK AND CROP.
—Joseph Moore sold to J. H. Miller, 5 shoats averaging 222 lbs. at 4¢.
—Three pairs of extra work mules for sale. Apply to S. M. Baughman. 2*
—S. H. Shanks sold to B. F. Robinson 27 head of 1,161 lb. feeders at 4 cents.
—The second crop of grasses bids fair to be as good as the first. The hills are as green as May.
—Baldwin & Womack sold to McElwain & Crab, four horse mules, 6 years old, average height 15½ hands, for $550.—[B. G. Gazette].
—PARIS COURT DAY—200 cattle on the market, best feeders $475; medium $410; $150; yearlings $25 to $30; calves $18 to $23; good demand.
—Mr. S. Porter Stagg that Mr. Harrison claims that from one pound of Irish potatoes planted he dug 131 pounds. The public can decide as to the location of the prize.
—J. B. Hunter sold in Nicholasville 178 sheep at $2.60 per head. John W. Logan sold 2 yearling mules at $100 each; 4 2-year olds at $135 each and 2 mule colts at $85 each.—[Lancaster News].
—Senator John S. Williams, and his step-son, Col. Hamilton, sold 88 hogsheads of Burley tobacco for about $17,000. One hoghead sold at $36.50 per cwt.—the highest price in Louisville this year.
—Hogs are dirt cheap and all the time growing cheaper. There is not likely to be a stiffening demand for porkers for some time. Corn and hogs are both too plentiful to make meat high.—[Glasgow Times].
—The wheat crop of Ohio is reported at 25,508,396 bushels against 45,450,000 last year. Corn was severely injured by frost in the northern portion of the State. The yield is estimated at 68,000,000 bushels, against 90,000,000 of the year before.
—During the year ending Oct. 1st, the Cincinnati pork-packer's Association reports the receipts of hogs at $36,238 against 731,408 of the preceding year; 213,425 cattle compared with 241,671 and 701,717 sheep against 804,418 of the year before.
—Joseph Spaulding received on Monday 82 head of weanling mules, which he had purchased during the season. They are a splendid lot and cost an average of about $75 per head. The highest price paid for a single animal was $100.—[Lebanon Standard].
—Jos. Bond bought of Witherspoon, of Woodford county, 47 2-year-old mules at $77 per head. Ben M. Osborn sold to Jos. P. Rogers, for "Cap" Rogers, 40 hogs weighing 153 pounds at 44¢. The tobacco crop has been housed in good order and is curing nicely. The crop will be about two-thirds of an average. A few choice crops were raised, but it is generally short.—[Georgetown Times].
—At Mrs. Menefee's sale on Oct. 2nd, stock sold as follows: Eight 2-year-old steers $3.77 per cwt; milk cows $30 to $38 per head; horses $67 to $110 per head; corn 91 cents to $1.30 per bushel; hay $10.75 per shock; hogs at $4.05 per hundred. The farm of 175 acres sold to J. N. Menefee at $4.20 per acre; household goods and farming utensils brought good prices fully up to the times. H. T. Bush, Aucr.
—The Cincinnati cattle market is steady; common $1.75 to $2.75; fair to medium $3.00 to $3.75; good to choice butcher grades $4.00 to $4.75; common to choice shippers $4.50 to $5.50. Hogs.—Market steady; selected butchers and heavy shippers $5 to $5.50; fair to good packers $4.50 to $4.90; fair to good light of 175 to 210 lbs., $5 to $5.25; of less weight $4.65 to $4.90; common $4 to $4.50. Sheep.—Market quiet; common $2.50 to $2.75; good to choice $3.50 to $4.25; stock ewes $2.50 to $3.25; stock ewes $2.50 to $3.25. Lambs steady; common fair $3.75 to $4.50; good to choice $4.75 to $5.50.

LINCOLN COUNTY.
Hustonsville.
—In order to prevent partial friends from writing my epitaph I report this morning.
—D. Spillman Carpenter has bought R. C. Powell's hotel property, for which he pays $2,400. Possession given in 10 days.
—On Wednesday morning, a young man, Caleb Bredson, fell off a wagon loaded with gravel, which passed over his ankle. He is severely injured, but no bones broken.
—Robert Green, of this place, while coupling cars at Danville Junction one day last week, had his left hand terribly lacerated. Two fingers were broken. Patient doing well.
—We got a goodly portion of the rain of Sunday evening and a fair showing on Monday. Nearly every well in town is dry and cisterns have generally refused to liquidate. The supply of whisky, however, is said to hold out encouragingly.
—John W. Greenwood and wife have sold their farm of 80 acres to J. R. Napier for $40 per acre—cash. Mr. G. and family will go West.
—J. W. Reid made an assignment Wednesday to E. L. Woods for the benefit of his creditors. Assets in stock and accounts, $700 or $800; liabilities about $2,000.
BOYLE COUNTY.
Danville.
—Mr. J. C. Masonheimer, one of our worthiest young men has opened a grocery store on Main Street, near Second.
—E. Y. Russell and Milly Davis were before the Police Court on Wednesday for a breach of the peace. Russell was fined $5; Davis acquitted.
—A man named Anthony May, alias New Sanders, was arrested Tuesday night charged with stealing a horse worth $200 from Mrs. Betsey Warren on Back Creek, in Garrard county. He was taken to Lancaster the same night for trial. He certainly acted strangely for a deliberate thief. There were reasonable grounds for thinking him a lunatic rather than a felon.
—Mrs. E. Creed, Miss E. S. Creed and Mrs. Gregory, of Columbus, Ohio, have taken rooms for the winter at the Clemens House. These ladies are strangers in Danville, and were attracted here by a handsome notice of our town found in "Rambles for Summer Days" a neat little book published by the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific Railway Company.
—The reunion of the 4th Kentucky Regiment (Federal), on the 10th inst. promises to be in every way a success. The veterans are to meet at the Court house for the transaction of business and are to partake of a banquet prepared by the host of the Clemens House. Hon. Cassius Goodloe, Hon. T. Z. Morrow and Gen. J. W. Finnell are expected to deliver addresses.
—Wakefield, Faris & Co. sold on Wednesday, to Mattingly & Simms, of Marion county, 6 broke mules 4 years old, and from 15 to 16 hands high, at $165 average. Mr. Walker, of New York city, and brother of "Veritas" the well known writer of the Spirit of the Times, and himself a writer of merit on turf matters, over the signature of "Fearnaught" was in town Wednesday. Cecil Bros. & Roe sold on Wednesday, to Mr. Jones, of Atlanta, Ga., a pair of 16 h. bay coach horses for $750. Mr. J. H. Engleman drove this week a fine yearling colt by Gov. Sprague, out of the dam of Sanford Keith. He showed good style and made 1 mile in a minute. Good time for a year old colt. Capt. T. D. English reports the sales of David Bonta, on the 21st, and W. H. Tewney & Sons, on the 13th inst. as follows: At Mr. Bonta's sale 6 milk cows sold from $60 to $85 each; 12 sheep $5.30 per head; 40 stock hogs $4.50 per hundred, corn $2 per barrel in the field; farm withdrawn at $52.25 per acre. At Tewney's 10 head work mules at $110 to $150; 10 head good farm horses $75 to $140; 216 scrub sheep sold in lots from $2 to $3.50 per head; 35 fat hogs at $4.25; 130 stock hogs at 4¢ to 4½ cents; 40 common yearlings and 2 year-old steers $25 to $35 per head.
—Bancroft, the historian, celebrated his 83d birthday at Newport, R. I., Wednesday. In the evening he gave a dinner party.
—Secretary Folger is of the opinion that a two per cent. long bond could be floated at par and he may recommend the issuing of such a bond to Congress.
—Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge delivered an eloquent address at the reunion of Company A of the First Kentucky Regiment of Cavalry, near Owensboro, last week.
—Brewer and Harrison Woods engaged in a row with a negro named Pete Proctor, at Shakerstown, and while Brewer held him down Harrison stabbed him to death.
—At Trenton, N. J., Mrs. Henry Kern and Mrs. Conrad Best, seventy-eight and seventy-five years of age, were killed by a railroad train while walking on the track.
—Wm. France, a brakeman on the C & O R. R., was killed at Triplett Tunnel. He was at his brake on the front car, when his head came in contact with a stone at the mouth of the tunnel, mashing it into a jelly.
—The Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad Co. has about completed arrangements by which immigrants will be brought directly from Europe, and settled along the line of the road in Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee.
—Judge Hines, of the Court of Appeals has affirmed the sentence of Wm. Shackelford, who was sent to the penitentiary for life from Harlan county for killing John G. Howard.
—Wm. Meyers gave a dance at his house in Berlin, Ky., and during the evening had occasion to put four young men out for misbehavior. They burst open the door, and one of them, named Weaver, shot Meyers dead. The next day Weaver hung himself.
—The insults offered King Alfonso by a Parisian mob continue to be the sensation of Europe. There are reports that the French Government will demand that the people of that country be made to apologize for what occurred. The King's prestige at home has been heightened by the occurrence. He does not himself think the action of the rabble in the streets represents the true feeling of the French people.

—PULASKI.—Daniel Tarter, a well-to-do farmer of the western part of this county, had his barn burned last Friday night. Two fine mules and a mare, besides a quantity of hay; farming implements, etc., were destroyed. Loss about $1,500. G. H. Ensel has shipped 12 car-loads of dried fruit and has begun on another.
A Blessing to All Mankind.
In these times when our newspapers are flooded with patent medicine advertisements, it is gratifying to know what to procure that will certainly cure you. If you are bilious, blood out of order, liver inactive, or generally debilitated, there is nothing in the world that will cure you so quickly as Electric Bitters. They are a blessing to all numbers and can be had for only fifty cents a bottle at Penny & McAllister's.
NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
—Fall and Winter—
MILLINERY!
I have on hand and on daily receiving a beautiful and complete line of Fashionable Millinery, to which I invite the attention of the ladies. I have taken great pains in the selection and am confident that an examination is all that is necessary to a purchase of my goods.
MISS BELLE HUGHES.
137-24
Notice to Creditors!
DAYTON TUCKER'S ADMR., } Lincoln
DAYTON TUCKER'S, ERS., &c. } Circuit
The creditors of Dayton Tucker, dec'd., are hereby notified to produce before me at my office in Danville, Ky., properly verified and proven, their claims against his estate, on or before the 25th day of October, 1893. Otherwise their claims will be barred as against the Administrator.
F. G. WELCH, M. C. L. C.
137-24
Public Sale!
LAND, STOCK & CROP.
We will offer for sale our Lands, About 500 Acres, of Farm Land, including a Carpenter's Shop and Green River, 6 miles North of Liberty, 2½ miles South of Middleburg and known as the "Lancaster Farm," one of the best stock-raising and a fine-growing farm in Casey county. Said lands will be sold privately on any day from this date until Thursday, October 25, 1893.
And if not disposed of, will on that day, on the premises be sold to the highest bidder for one-third cash; the residue on two equal annual payments with late Oct. 1st date until paid.
On the same day (October 25th) we will also sell to the highest bidder, on the premises, our stock, consisting of Horses, Cattle, Hogs, some good aged work Mules, some younger Mules, some Jennie work Cows, one of the finest young Jacks in the county, between 400 and 500 barrels of Corn, some Wheat and Rye, two 2-horse Wagons, Farming Utensils, etc., and many other articles not necessary to be mentioned. Any personal property will be sold on a credit of six months.
Any and all of said property will be shown to any one desiring to purchase, by Mr. Sen, any day on the premises. Said lands lie between the Liberty and Hustonsville turnpike road and Liberty and Middleburg turnpike road, and within 2 miles of the depot of the railroad, which road will be in running condition inside of two months. Convenient to churches, etc., is a good neighborhood.
137-14 J. W. McWHORTER & SON.
AMERICAN FARMER
FREE
TO ALL OUR SUBSCRIBERS.
A sixteen page agricultural magazine, published by E. A. K. Hackett, at Fort Wayne, Indiana, and which is rapidly taking rank as one of the leading agricultural publications of the country. It is devoted exclusively to the interests of the Farmer, Stock Breeder, Dairyman, Gardener, and their household, and every species of industry connected with that great portion of the people of the world, the Farmer. The subscription price is $1.00 per year. Farmers can not well get along without it. It puts new ideas into their minds. It teaches them how to farm with profit to themselves. It makes them happy, the young folks cheerful, the growler contented, the downcast happy, and the demagogue honest.
Cut This Out—Return to me with TEN CENTS, and I will send you a copy of the AMERICAN FARMER for one year. It is the best thing you can do for your farm. It is the best thing you can do for your family. It is the best thing you can do for your pocket. It is the best thing you can do for your soul. It is the best thing you can do for your country. It is the best thing you can do for your world.
J. N. MENEFEE, Editor.
137-14
Notice!
To the Tax-Payers of Lincoln County:
All those who have not paid their Taxes for 1893 will please call at my office in Court-House and settle immediately, as the Auditor is urging payment. I can not wait. J. N. MENEFEE, Sheriff.
137-14
Nice Farm For Sale!
On account of bad health, I have concluded to sell privately my Farm of 111 Acres, lying one mile from Peyton's Well and 1 mile from the Stanford & Middleburg turnpike. It is in a fine state of cultivation and has 60 Acres of (timber). Those desiring a good little Farm, well improved, would do well to call on me.
DR. F. L. RHODES, Hustonsville, Ky.
138-41
Public Sale!
AND RENTING!
Not being able to attend to my farm, I will let Saturday, OCTOBER 20, 1893.
Rent it to the highest bidder for the year 1893. It lies on both sides of the pike leading from Stanford to Hustonsville, about 5½ miles from the former and 6 miles from the latter place. The farm is very productive and well watered.
On the same day and on the same premises, I will sell my stock, consisting of Milk Cows, Feeders, Yearlings and Calves; also a lot of thoroughbred cattle, young and old, of the Kentucky and Victoria stock and one very fine aged Bull, a lot of Mules, Horses and Brood Mares, my Farm Produce, consisting of Wheat, Rye, Corn and Hay; all my Farming Implements, such as Plows, Harrows, Wagon, Grain Drill, Hay Rake and many other articles too numerous to mention.
Terms.—Credit of six months on all sums over $50; under that amount, cash. Notes required, negotiable and payable in full with interest. Terms must be complied with before removal of property.
138-14 J. S. MURPHY.

HON. A. G. TALBOTT,
Of Boyle, is a candidate for Speaker of the next House of Representatives.

TO THE PUBLIC
—We will now pay special attention to—
"CUSTOM GRINDING."
We promise to give satisfaction, and when desired will give Patent Flour for Wheat. Can make either bolted or unbolted meal.
110-4
WEAVER & SALLER.
—VALUABLE—
Garrard Co. Lamps
FOR SALE.
I offer at private sale my farm of about 500 acres, in Garrard, about one mile below Camp Dick Robinson, with large cottage house of eight rooms, in number one repair, all necessary outbuildings, and the land fertile and in a fine state of cultivation, nearly all being in grass. On the place is a distillery of about 150 bushels capacity. The turnpike from Danville to Lexington runs through this farm, and the location is very convenient. At 100 acres, a part of the R. M. Jones farm, on the same pike, adjoining the above. The two places will be sold as a whole, or divided to suit purchasers. The purchaser will also have the option to retain the distillery, or it can be removed. Also a small farm adjoining the above-described property, with fair improvements, in the intersection of the Danville and Burns Vicksburg turnpike, containing about 65 acres. A small tract of 11 acres, adjoining lands of T. Dunn. Also a store house in the town of Bryansville, a warehouse near the depot in Lancaster, a burial lot in the Lancaster cemetery, etc. All the above property will be sold on very liberal terms. For further particulars, call on or address
W. N. BECKLEY,
Bryansville, Ky.
sep. 15 14

500 PAIRS

SHOES!

These are Fresh Fall Goods and Parties Wanting

SCHOOL SHOES!

Should Govern Themselves Accordingly.

BRUCE, WARREN & CO.

PREPARE!

—BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE, FOR—

FALL SEEDING!

And be sure you examine, before purchasing, our line of Seeding Implements, as follows:

The Baker Spring Hoe
Grain Drill,
The Trump Grain Drill
with Spring Seat,
The Buckeye Spring Shoe
Grain Drill,
The Star One-horse Grain
Drill,
The Albion Spring Sulky
Harrow and Broadcast Seeder,
The Kalamazoo Spring
Tooth Sulky Harrow
and Broadcast Seeder,
The Moline Sulkey Plow,
The Cassedy Sulky
Plow.

This line of Implements cannot be excelled.

Also remember we make a Specialty of Fish Brothers Wagons, Webster Wagons and Columbus Buggies and Carriages, of which my stock is always full and complete.

GEO. D. WEAREN.

Why She Left the Louisville Exposition.

A Newport unmarried elderly lady, the leader of the fashion in her own family, attended the Southern Exposition Wednesday. She is, and always has been, very bashful; in fact, she is so bashful she won't get married, and she has had ever so many offers. That was Arkansas day—the day Governor Berry, of that State was presented in the main hall of the building, before a large audience, with a suit of clothes from cotton picked in Arkansas exactly forty-four hours previously.

The suit was nicely placed on exhibition beside Mayor Jacob and his Arkansas excellency. The mayor made a fine presentation speech, and was in the act of handing the suit to the governor when our young lady left, took the 3 o'clock train, and came home.

Was she sick? No. But the following conversation between her and a lady friend, whom she happened to meet at the depot when she arrived, will tell why she left:

"Why, goodness gracious, Mary! Back already? I thought you were going to spend several days in Louisville."

"Well, I'll tell you why I came back so soon," she said in almost a whisper; "I became disgusted."

"Disgusted! And why?"

"Why, you see it was given out in the papers that the governor of Arkansas would wear at the exposition a suit of clothes made within only a few hours from the time the cotton was picked from the field in Arkansas."

"Oh, that was a novelty, surely."

"Well, I went to the exposition, and got a good seat close up to where the governor and other notables were sitting, and after a few moments I discovered that the governor hadn't put on the new suit yet, for the mayor of Louisville was presenting it to him; and just as the mayor picked up the pants to hand to him I got up and left."

"What did you leave for, Mary?"

"Why, my goodness! do you think I was going to sit there and see him put his pants on? It was awful; it was shocking, disgusting!"—[Kentucky State Journal.]

A scheme for the scientific prolongation of human life by the prevention of disease of cure of disease lately perished in Erie, Pa. It was organized under a special charter as the National Longevity Union, and, instead of sending out ordinary agents like insurance companies, its drummers were to be "missionary hygienists," who would go far and wide through the land, founding lodges, and offering free medical attendance as an inducement for taking stock in the company. But, just a week after its organization, the project was crushed by Judge Galbraith, who annulled its charter, on the ground that the scheme was too vast and vague in scope, and too liable to be made a great national fraud. It is remarkable how many schemes of an analogous sort have sprung up lately. Pennsylvania being a chief center of them. The Graveyard Insurance project was only recently squelched; the Marriage Endowment scheme perished before many persons had lost heavily by it; but this Longevity Union has given a more remarkable illustration than any of the occasional brevity of corporate life.

SHUBBING A PRINCE.—When the prince, a good many years ago, made the tour of this country with the duke of Newcastle as his master, he arrived in Cincinnati. At that time there lived in Newport, Ky., Miss Mary Whistler, of the United States Army, then, as now, the most beautiful woman of her age in America. The committee of arrangements at Cincinnati notified Miss Whistler that she was assigned to dance the first set with the prince of Wales. Her reply was that she should be as happy to dance with any gentleman of Cincinnati who was properly introduced and requested her so to do, but that she would be assigned to no one. And she didn't.—[Chicago Tribune.]

Louisville has unbounded esteem for the level-headedness of the Covington child who, on retiring a few nights since, concluded his prayer thus: "Goodbye, O Lord; I am going over to Cincinnati in the morning."

Very Low Rates.—During the continuance of the Southern Exposition, at Louisville, Ky., (commencing August 1st, and continuing 100 days), the Louisville & Nashville Railroad will sell Excursion Tickets from any of its stations to Louisville at one fare for the round trip. These Tickets will be on sale every day, from 8 A. M. stations and will be good 15 days, allowing ample time to visit the Great Exposition ever held in the South, and second only to the Centennial at Philadelphia.

TRIBUTE TO LINCOLN.

BY ROBT. F. DOTE.

Weep, soldier, weep, for one who sleeps
Beneath a hero's patriot's tomb;
Who sleeps the sleep of solitude
From out this world of gloom.

Once in the arms of the past
His heart beat as ours heart beat;
But lo! the assassin came to one
Whose life was sweetly sweet!

No more upon this mundane sphere
Shall walk our honored dead;
For one lies in a patriot's grave—
A grave to which we're wed!

Weep, soldier, weep, for one who sleeps
Beneath bright freedom's soil;
Shall never wake from slumbering death
That which is free from toil!

The comrades that have fallen 'neath
The great rebellion's fire
Shall never wake from their long sleep
To raise the rebel's ire.

There was a man, old honest Abe,
Who fought for freedom's cause;
He loosed the shackles from the slave,
And gained the world's applause!

But death, dispenser of us all,
Came on too soon for one
The assassin's bullet made its way,
And Lincoln's life was riven.

Weep, soldier, weep, for one who sleeps
Beneath bright freedom's soil;
Shall never wake from slumbering sleep
That which is free from toil!

DECEASED, ILL.

LOVE IN DREAMLAND.

"Drunk again, you see, doctor. Yes, drunk again! The same old story. What next?" It was a pale young man in thirties who spoke thus; and there was an exceeding weariness in the tone of his voice and bearing.

The great physician who sat opposite to him nodded gravely.

"Aye," continued the young man, in the same dreary manner as before, "I just recollect something about it. I was picked up in the gutter by a policeman last night. My front teeth, I find, had been kicked down my throat or out of it—at all events they were gone; but I managed to make myself intelligible, and hiccoughed out that I lived here. It was a lie—I always tell lies at these times—but I was afraid to go home! I have no home—but to my brother's house. Why was I afraid? I was afraid because I had robbed him. I had stolen his wife's miniature and the coral necklace of his child to buy drink. I have spent the money for which I pawned them, and here I am again."

He spoke without the slightest emotion, and then fixed his eyes doggedly on the ground. He had naturally something of the student's stoop, and now he bent so low that he looked the very picture of abject misery. The physician whom he addressed gazed at him meanwhile with intense compassion. Walter Clifford and Cecil Graham (the doctor), after passing his examination credulously, though without distinction, had taken a degree as a physician, and being a man of much sound sense and observation, rather than an abstract scholar, had rapidly risen to the first rank in his profession. Clifford, who had gone through his academic career much more brilliantly, and had taken high honors, was a poor, degraded vagabond, a begging letter writer, a creature whom it was not safe to receive into one's house lest he should steal something. Yet in spite of all there was a nameless dignity about the castaway, and it was hard to believe that one who in his calmer hours spoke and thought so nobly should be so vile. The night before the conversation just recorded he had been brought senseless to Dr. Graham's house, a shameless bundle of dirt and rags; but the doctor, being unmarried and free to follow his instincts as a good Samaritan, had recognized him at once, housed, fed and clothed him anew. The same thing had happened at least twenty times before, and Graham was wondering how and when such visits would end.

"Come, cheer up, old fellow!" he said kindly. "I've got an idea. Go down and live with my aunt in Cornwall. She is a worthy soul and makes capital tea. You used to like tea, I remember. You will do as you like, eat excellent apple puddings and help her to manage her bees and her cucumbers whenever you feel inclined. I have got a little estate down there, too, you know, which I inherited from my dear mother. Be my agent till something better turns up. I can't afford to give you more than a hundred a year, but you will, of course, live at free quarters, and there is really some very good fishing. Promise me only not to tittle, and—come, is it a bargain?" The doctor stretched out his hand and looked brightly on the human ruin before him. He tried to seem as though he were asking a favor, instead of conferring one.

Clifford moved uneasily in his chair, but made no motion to take the doctor's proffered hand. Presently, however, he turned his head away, and began speaking in a vague, musing manner, as though he was talking to himself.

"You all fancy it is drink which is the root and organ of mischief in my case," he muttered. "As a matter of fact, it is only a graft upon what is a deadlier, because a far more subtle and invisible, malady. Since childhood I have been given to a habit of dreaming—of completely withdrawing myself from my surroundings, and retiring into a world of my own creation. What Coleridge required opium to effect, I could do without extraneous aid, for a time; but I soon found out that stimulants would rouse my faded imagination when it flagged. First tea and coffee were enough; then, as these lost their effect from constant use, I resorted to wine; and, as wine was slow in its effect, to spirits. The more I dreamed the more insignificant appeared to me the realities of life, and the more irresistible the temptation to dream."

The doctor, who was devoid of humor, here laid his hand on Clifford's arm, and said, denurely: "My aunt has an old pony who has a habit of shying at an considered trifles. He is also a wrong-headed pony, and she will not hear of his being whipped. Whenever she sees him come on you take her out for a drive, and your attention will be fully occupied. For the rest cold water shower baths, fresh fruit, indexing books—anything that will keep your mind occupied; and—well, if that won't do, 'bitch you body well with stinging nettles.' It is a very ancient remedy, and I should think might answer as a mental diversion in your case. At all events forswear the bottle."

"The bottle!" answered Clifford, sadly. "How shall I convince you that I don't care for it? Up to yesterday even I had fought for some time pretty successfully against the great demon, as you will call it, and had only drunk moderately of wine at my brother's table. It was the afternoon, that time toward 4 o'clock, when our vitality is said to be at the lowest—mine certainly is. I thought a glass of absinthe would relieve me, but then it occurred to me that the absinthe would not give me the slightest pleasure or solace if I did not dream over it. If I had to think of the past and present after drinking it, it would only intensify my feelings and make them more terrible. So I did not drink, and turned my footsteps toward home, sorrowful and dejected. It was then that the enchanted castle arose before me in all its allurement. I was drawn, or went, if you will, toward its portals, and once I enter there my will is gone. Anything to stay in it a few minutes longer. That means drink. To resume—primary evil, dreaming. Graft upon it, drink."

"Rouse yourself, man," replied the physician with affectionate earnestness. "Your case is in your own hands. Think of all the wide world dear in life—of man's esteem, of woman's affection and of the world's honor."

"Supposing that I like my world better than yours?" replied the dreamer. "Who knows which is the better, the world of facts or that of fancy? Here, I am a shabby outcast; the very children here cry out on me. There, not royal Israel in his glory was arrayed more magnificent than I. I feast on sumptuous fare served to me by Numidian maids on golden salvers. I drink rich wines from jeweled goblets, cooled with mountain snow. My abodes are ivory palaces, built by pleasant waters, where the white cygnets woo the lily queen, and there I am made glad. In my gardens the tall cedar spreads her ample canopy against the noonday sun. Flowers of gorgeous hues and subtle fragrance cluster over crystal fountains. The luciferous fungi hang ripe upon the lime and orange tree. Terrace upon terrace rises ramp upon ramp, each thronged with graceful statuettes, till all are crowned by graceful towers, whence my banner floats. The groves beneath are full of nightingales and dancing elves. Fairy minstrelsy awakens the sylvan echoes round about, and tiny lutes give answer to soft dulcimers. The distant clash of fair Titania's cymbals comes from afar, each with a silver sound. My word is power. In my audience halls await ambassadors from subject nations. My laws give wealth and peace to millions, and when I ride abroad, attended by my court and ministers, my people crowd about my horses' reins to kiss my feet, and shout with heart and voice, 'God save the King.'"

"That way lies madness," remarked the doctor, gravely. "We call it doxomania, or morbid passion for vain glory."

"What would you give me in exchange for it?" replied the dreamer, grimly. "Chambers in Pump court or Lincoln's Inn; a Sunday dinner with my friendly country editor or kind attorney, till I had grown base enough to be knighted with some city knuckler, made rich by cheating his fellow-man; or, were I steeped to the very lips in infamy, till I was made a junior Baron in your falling House of Lords, a tool of party, the very essence of a rogue?"

"Wake up, I say," replied the doctor, rather testily. "Wake up and be a man."

"No, thank you," replied Clifford. "I would rather return to my slumbers. Lately, too, there has come into my dreams a vision of unutterable loveliness. Her form is all my soul has ever pictured of the beautiful; her voice is what my ears have keenest sought in music; her eyes are lode-stars, and her lips are sweeter than the honeycomb—though shape and voice and lips be all of air. Good-by."

"Yet stay," said Graham, anxiously, "or do not, at least, go empty-handed. Take this, and when it is gone, why come again, 'for all kind sake.'"

The vagabond's hand clutched almost fiercely at the coins held out to him. "Never fear," he said, with an absent laugh, "you will see me again."

Then his spare, bent figure went shambling away out of the doctor's house and passed into the shadow beyond. "Poor devil!" sighed the prosperous physician. "I must not let him go; he is staggering straight to a mad-house." And Graham seized his hat, but his servant met him in the doorway before he could pass out.

"There are twelve patients, sir, in the waiting-room," said the man, mechanically, "and here are three elegrams."

SCHOOL HYGIENE.

The condition of some of the schools as to light and ventilation is simply deplorable. Some may be remedied, others will need to be removed and new houses erected in their places. In several school-rooms the light enters almost entirely from the rear, rendering it necessary for the teachers to stand facing the windows, while the work of the pupil is shaded by his own body. I am confident that in all such rooms great injury is being done to the eyesight of many of the occupants. Many rooms are provided with no adequate means of ventilation. In some the plans adopted have proved failures in part or wholly, while in others no means whatever have been provided save by the doors and windows. During warm weather, when these can be left open, no great harm need be done, but when cold weather requires that they be closed, the foulness of the air becomes almost unbearable, and no effort or watchfulness on the part of the teachers can make the rooms fit for use. Even the out-door air in a city like ours is far from being pure, and it is safe to say that, with all our efforts to secure ventilation, the air of many school-rooms would, if analyzed, be found to contain five times the normal amount of carbonic acid gas, beside all the other impurities incident to the collecting into one room of from forty to sixty children. During the past two years contagious diseases have prevailed in our midst more than ever before. Not only have many children from our schools died, but hundreds of others have been interrupted in their school work on this account. It is a noticeable fact that these diseases are more prevalent in cold weather, and it is more than probable that the physical system of the children is rendered more susceptible to these diseases because of the polluted air they are obliged to breathe from four to five hours per day. It is expensive to build new school-houses and provide ample means of ventilating the same, but it is far more expensive to have the work of the school broken up by preventable diseases. Visit, near the close of the day, any of the rooms, in which there is a lack of good ventilation, and the lassitude shown by the children in all their exercises will convince any one how impossible it is for the mind to do any really good work under such circumstances. The brain refuses to act, imperfect lessons are the result, the teacher loses confidence in her ability to interest and benefit the pupils, and becomes discouraged.—School Superintendent Daniels, Grand Rapids, Mich.

IN ASSASSIN'S HORRIBLE DEATH.
On the 5th of January, 1758, as King Louis XV. was entering his carriage at Versailles, a stout young man pushed through the Swiss Guards and stabbed the King with a pocket-knife. The wound was slight, but all France was convulsed. The assassin was Pierre Danieles, a fanatical Jansenist—a poor fanatic without accomplices, plan or rational motive.

In his pocket was found a neatly-bound New Testament, and his purpose was to promote the orthodox faith. From the hour of his arrest to the moment of his death, a period of two months and twenty-three days, he was in tortures; he was awake, so cruelly was he bound, chained and confined. When at last the day of execution came, he was taken to the torture chamber and subjected to the greatest amount of anguish which the human frame is capable of enduring, surgeons standing by to give timely notice of insensibility.

Then he was driven by a circuitous route through the streets of Paris to the place of execution. This took an hour and a half. Another half hour he was kept waiting in full view of the preparations, the apparatus not being ready. Then, in view of the assembled multitude, many of whom were women, he was placed on a lofty platform and the hellish work began. First, his right hand was burned off; next, masses of flesh were torn from him by red-hot pincers, and melted lead and resin poured into the wounds; lastly, a strong horse was attached to each of his four limbs, and an attempt was made to tear him to pieces.

After a considerable period it was found impossible to do this, and a message was sent for permission to cut the muscles of the joints. This was refused, and again an attempt was made to tear the limbs apart, but without success. A second time word was sent that the horses could not tear the dying wretch asunder. Permission was then given, and the muscles were severed, but not until both legs and one arm had been torn off did the prisoner expire.

Love laughs at locksmiths, and so do those who are bound to attend a circus. The operatives of a silk-mill in Paterson, N. J., asked permission to go to the tented field. The proprietors of the mill said the manufacture of silk must go on, and to make assurance doubly sure they locked the factory doors with the operatives inside. After demanding to be liberated several times, one of the employees took a screw-driver and took off the lock. The crowd rushed out, yelling like school-boys at regaining their liberty. They went to the circus.

Even a deacon won't say grace when he steps into a railway eating house. He knows that 't would be asking too much to request that he be made thankful for anything he will get there.—Boston Post.

STREET TALK.—"How much better you look, Mrs. S." "Yes, I have gained 32 pounds on Hall's Catarrh Cure. Have not felt so well in 20 years. It has made a complete cure and is worth $50 a bottle to any one that has the catarrh."

SEEK
health and avoid sickness. Instead of feeling tired and worn out, instead of aches and pains, wouldn't you rather feel fresh and strong?

You can continue feeling miserable and good for nothing, and no one but yourself can find fault, but if you are tired of that kind of life, you can change it if you choose.

How? By getting one bottle of BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, and taking it regularly according to directions.

Manfield, Ok., Nov. 26, 1881.
Gentlemen:—I have suffered with pain in my side and back, and great distress on my head, with constant pains all over my body, attended with great weakness, depression of spirits, and loss of appetite. I have taken several different medicines, and was treated by prominent physicians for my liver, kidneys, and spleen, but I got no relief. I then I bought a bottle of BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. I have now taken one bottle and a half and am about well—pain in side and back all gone, appetite all out of my breast, and I have a good appetite, and am gaining in strength and flesh. It can justly be called the king of medicines.
JOHN K. ALLEN, D.D.

CHURCH DIRECTORY.

METHODIST, SOUTH.—Rev. H. C. Morrison, Pastor. Services every Sunday morning and night except the third. Prayer Meeting every Thursday night. Sunday School at 9:30 A. M. Rev. H. C. Morrison, Superintendent.

BAPTIST.—Rev. J. M. BAUER, Pastor. Services on Second and Fourth Sundays, morning and night. Prayer Meeting every Wednesday afternoon. Sunday School at 9:30 A. M. R. E. Barrow, Superintendent.

CHRISTIAN.—Worship by the congregation every Lord's day. Preaching by Dr. J. W. Cox on Second and Fourth Lord's days. Sunday School at 9:15. Jas. Severance, Superintendent.

PRESBYTERIAN, SOUTH.—Rev. I. S. McElroy, pastor. Sunday School at 9:30. John W. Scott, Superintendent. Union Prayer Meeting on Wednesday nights.

CHURCH DIRECTORY.
W. P. WALTON, - Proprietor.
Size of Stage, 20x50. Eight complete sets of Seamen's Seating capacity, including gallery, 600. Reasonable rates to good attractions. Address as above.

Opera House.
STANFORD, KY.
W. P. WALTON, - Proprietor.
Size of Stage, 20x50. Eight complete sets of Seamen's Seating capacity, including gallery, 600. Reasonable rates to good attractions. Address as above.

Stanford Female College.
STANFORD, KY.
With a Full Corps of Teachers.
This Institution will open its Thirtieth Session on the 2d Monday in September next.

ALL THE BRANCHES OF A THOROUGH ENGLISH COURSE.
Are taught, as well as MUSIC, THE LANGUAGES, DRAWING AND PAINTING.
TERMS MODERATE.
In Tuition, prices range from $25 to $50 in the regular Department. Primary, $25; Intermediate $30; Preparatory, $40; and College, $50.
For full particulars, as to board, etc., address
WM. H. C. TRUBBART, Principal,
Stanford, Lincoln Co., Ky.

HALL'S CATARRH CURE.
IS RECOMMENDED BY PHYSICIANS.
Catarrh of the Head, Cervix, Uterus, Vagina, and Bladder, is taken from the Blood, and acts DIRECTLY upon the Blood and Mucous Surfaces of the System. It is the best Blood Purifier in the WORLD, and is worth ALL that is charged for it, for THAT alone.
ONLY INTERNAL CURE FOR CATARRH OF THE BLADDER.
We offer One Hundred Dollars for any Case of Catarrh it will not cure.
WILL CURRANY CASE.
Office of A. J. S. S. & Co.,
Chicago, Ill., June 4, 1880.
Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.
Gentlemen:—I take pleasure in informing you that I have used Hall's Catarrh Cure. It has cured me. I was very bad, and don't hesitate to say that it will cure any case of Catarrh if taken properly.
Yours truly,
J. H. WEATHERS.
WORTH $10 A BOTTLE.
E. W. Mearns, Jackson, Mich., writes: "I have had Catarrh for 30 years. Hall's Catarrh Cure cured me. Consider it worth $10.00 a bottle."
Sold by all druggists, or by mail, for $5.00 per bottle. Manufactured and sold by F. J. CHENEY & CO., Sole Proprietors, TOLEDO, OHIO.
For sale in Stanford by Penny & McAllister.

Afflicted Attention.
DR. GANN'S REMEDIES!
FOR THE MILLION.
MANUFACTURED BY W. K. GANN, M. D., MONTICELLO, KY.
The world is filled with the wonderful, beautiful and intricate inventions of man, yet all the combined talent and genius that the world has ever known has never produced anything that can compare with "Dr. Gann's Remedies." Medical skill and science have, as yet, failed to discover any thing equal to these for the cure of the diseases for which they are recommended. As their virtues and uses are described by thousands throughout the length and breadth of the land, and as Standard Family Medicines, they cannot be exaggerated and are fully substantiated by the strongest testimonials.
For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis, Consumption and all Diseases of the Throat and Lungs.
Use Dr. Gann's Cough Syrup.
For Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Jaundice, Constipation, Sour Stomach and all Bilious Diseases.
Use Dr. Gann's Liver Cure.
For Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sprains, Bruises and Swellings—an external application for sore of bone.
Use Dr. Gann's Liniment.
For Piles, Hemorrhoids, Burns, Fists and all similar diseases.
Use Dr. Gann's Pile Ointment.
For Fresh Cuts, Burns, Ulcers and Old Sores.
Use Dr. Gann's Bitter-Sweet Ointment.
Use Dr. Gann's Stomach Bitters.
A Reliable Tonic, Appetizer and Blood Purifier, for General Weakness, Indigestion, Biliousness, Complaint, Malarial Fevers and all periodical Diseases. Manufactured and for sale by
W. K. GANN, M. D.,
Sole proprietor, Monticello, Ky. 68¢ all orders by mail will receive prompt attention. 88-1

OHIO & MISSISSIPPI R. W.
FOR THE East, West and North
—FROM—
Louisville!
3 Trains from LOUISVILLE to the East and the North. Free Parlor Cars to Cincinnati and St. Louis. Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars to Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York, without change.
2 Trains from LOUISVILLE to the West, Northwest and Southwest, with Palace Sleeping Cars on night train, Louisville to St. Louis.
10 Hours from LOUISVILLE to ST. LOUIS.
2 Trains from LOUISVILLE to INDIANAPOLIS, CHICAGO and the North, with Day Coaches and Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars through without change.
LOOK AT THIS!
The 2:25 p. m. Express (daily) from Louisville has Palace Sleeping Cars from Louisville to New York without change, arriving at Washington 2:25 p. m. next day.
Hours Ahead of All Competitors.
Emigrants and Home-Seekers via the O. & M. R. Y. have Through Day Coaches on all trains. Have no midnight changes. Arrive at St. Louis 3 hours in advance of other lines, thereby securing more time for making change of cars and getting first choice of seats in cars of connecting lines.
In advance of other lines to Indianapolis and Chicago and the only line giving its patrons a 12-mile ride along the shores of Lake Michigan.
For tickets, rates, time, maps, etc., apply to Ticket Agents of connecting lines or address
R. S. BROWN, Southern Passenger Agt.,
S. E. Cor. Fourth & Main Sts., Louisville.
W. W. PEABODY, W. B. SEATON, Gen'l Manager, Gen'l Passenger Agt.,
Cincinnati.
J. D. HILL, Passenger Agent, Lebanon, Ky.

CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RY.
Kentucky's Route East
—FOR—
Washington, Philadelphia & N. Y.
—The only line running—
PULLMAN NEW SLEEPING CARS
—AND—
A SOLID TRAIN
—FROM—
Louisville, Cincinnati and Lexington, Ky.
—TO—
WASHINGTON CITY.
Connecting in name depot with fast trains for
NEW YORK.
The Direct Route to Lynchburg, Danville, Norfolk.
—AND—
All Virginia and North Carolina Points.
For tickets and further information, apply to your nearest ticket office, or address
JAMES C. EHRNST,
Gen'l. Gen'l. Agent,
340 W. Main St., Louisville, Ky.
C. W. SMITH, S. W. FULLER, Gen'l. Manager, Gen'l. Pass. Agt.,
Richmond, Virginia.

PROFESSIONAL.

BURDETT & BURDETT.
ATTORNEYS AT LAW.
134-137 MT. VERNON, KY.
T. W. & W. E. VARNON,
ATTORNEYS AT LAW.
STANFORD, KY.
Office in Owsley & Son's new building—up stairs.

ALEX. ANDERSON,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
DANVILLE, KY.
Will practice in the Courts of Boyle and adjoining counties and in the Court of Appeals.

J. B. FISH,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
And Master Commissioner Kentucky Circuit Court.
MT. VERNON, KY.
Will practice in the Kentucky Courts. Collections a specialty. Office in Court-house. [136]

LEE P. HUFFMAN,
SURGEON DENTIST.
Office—South side Main Street, two doors above the Myers Hotel.
Pure Nitrous Oxide Gas administered when required.

DR. W. B. PENNY,
Dentist.
STANFORD, KENTUCKY.
Office over Robt. S. Lytle's store. Office hours from 9 to 12 A. M. and 1 to 5 P. M. Emergencies attended when necessary. [131-132]

T. J. BOSLEY,
House Painter & Paper Hanger
170-7th STANFORD, KY.

"MONON ROUTE."
Louisville, New Albany & Chicago Railway.
—THE ONLY LINE RUNNING—
Pullman Palace Cars!
—AND SOLID TRAINS—
LOUISVILLE TO CHICAGO
SPECIAL NOTICE.—Passengers from the Knoxville Branch of L. & N. R. arrive in Louisville in time to take the evening train of the "Monon Route" and go through to Greencastle, Crawfordsville, Lafayette and Chicago without change.

TIME TABLE.
STATIONS. Daily. Daily.
Lv. Louisville. 7:40 p. m. 8:15 a. m.
Arr. Greencastle. 1:01 a. m. 2:41 p. m.
" Crawfordsville. 2:05 a. m. 3:44 p. m.
" Lafayette. 3:09 a. m. 4:48 p. m.
" Chicago. 7:30 a. m. 9:50 p. m.
The most direct route, with only one change of cars, to all points in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, etc. For full particulars, apply to
MURRAY KELLER, G. P. A.,
Louisville, Ky.

L & N
(LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE R.R.)
THE GREAT
Through Trunk Line
Without Change and with Speed Unrivaled
SHORTEST AND QUICKEST ROUTE FROM LOUISVILLE TO THE SOUTH & WEST
PULLMAN CARS Without change to
Little Rock, Montgomery, Atlanta, Savannah, Jacksonville, Mobile, and New Orleans.
BEST ROUTE TO FLORIDA
In Place Cars Without Change.
SHORT LINE TO THE EAST
From Louisville in Palace Cars without change.
EMIGRANTS Seeking homes on the line of this road will receive special low rates.
See Agents or the Company for rates, routes, etc., or write C. P. ATMORE, G. P. & T. A.,
Louisville, Ky.

KENTUCKY CENTRAL R. R.
—BY FAR—
THE MOST DESIRABLE ROUTE TO—
CINCINNATI!
And decidedly the Popular Route, affording, as it does, less change and superior accommodations to Missouri, Iowa, Kansas, Texas,
The North, Northwest and West. In fact, if you contemplate a trip in any direction, your interest will be best served by purchasing your tickets via K. C. and Cincinnati. Pullman Palace Cars, the latest New Day Coaches, and handsomely furnished Pullman Dining Cars, with the most complete equipment of this Old Reliable, thereby making a trip over this line one of luxurious comfort and pleasure. Try it!
TIME TABLE, IN EFFECT JULY 29, 1888.

SOUTH.
No. 2. No. 4. No. 16.
Lv. Covington. 8:00 a. m. 8:00 p. m.
" Falmouth. 9:35 a. m. 4:35 p. m.
" Crutcher. 10:40 a. m. 5:40 p. m.
Arr. Paris. 11:15 a. m. 6:15 p. m.
Lv. Paris. 11:15 a. m. 6:15 p. m.
Arr. Lexington. 12:05 p. m. 7:10 p. m.
Lv. Paris. 6:40 a. m. 7:40 p. m.
" Millersburg. 6:40 a. m. 7:40 p. m.
" Carlisle. 7:00 p. m. 8:00 p. m.
Lv. Paris. 1:15 a. m. 6:15 p. m.
" Winchester. 12:19 p. m. 7:15 p. m.
" Richmond. 1:40 p. m. 8:40 p. m. 9:30 p. m.
" Lancaster. 10:40 a. m. 4:35 p. m.
Arr. Stanford June. 10:30 p. m. 12:00 p. m.

NORTH.
No. 1. No. 3. No. 15.
Lv. Stanford June. 4:45 a. m. 2:25 p. m.
" Lancaster. 5:10 a. m. 3:05 p. m.
" Richmond. 6:30 a. m. 4:05 p. m.
" Winchester. 7:35 a. m. 5:20 p. m.
" Falmouth. 10:40 a. m. 4:35 p. m.
Arr. Covington. 11:45 a. m. 6:30 p. m.

NO. 15 LEX. 8:00 a. m. Arr. Mayville 9:00 a. m.
NO. 16 LEX. 10:10 a. m. Arr. Mayville 11:00 a. m.
NO. 27 LEX. 5:25 p. m. Arr. Mayville 6:30 p. m.
NO. 28 LEX. 7:35 p. m. Arr. Mayville 8:40 p. m.
NO. 6 LEX. 3:30 p. m. Arr. Falmouth 7:30 p. m.
NO. 5 LEX. Falmouth 6:15 a. m. Arr. Cov. 8:10 a. m.
NO. 3 AND 4 DAILY between Richmond, Lexington and Covington, all others daily except Sunday.

Special Rates to Emigrants.
For tickets, rates and information pertaining to line, connections, etc., call on or address
W. B. McROBERTS, Agent,
G. W. BENEDICT, Superintendent, C. L. BROWN, Gen'l. Pass. & F. Agt.